Organic cosmetic products from South Tyrol

The Alps are rich in natural treasures. Powerful medicinal plants grow here, drawing their nourishing active ingredients from the depths of our soil. Phyto-Art® has developed a pure and gentle way to transfer these invigorating natural resources into your skin. It is a unique South Tyrolean organic skin product brand that uses natural ingredients without animal substances.

Each facial care product in our cosmetic line contains at least four medicinal plants which can be assigned to the elements of fire, water, earth and air. We also use precious stones that have grown over thousands of years. This ancient power of the stones revitalizes and strengthens the skin. Phyto-Art® products are holistic, self-regenerating, customized and high quality. The brand's philosophy is based on the awareness that humans and nature form a powerful unity that brings soul, body and mind into balance.

Massages

Unwind and recharge - anti-stress massage

This special massage gently balances the reflex zones that are most stressed in everyday life. By treating your face, head, neck, hands and feet, we will release blockages and tension. Your entire system will feel refreshed and energized after this massage.

50 min 75€

Breathing massage

Breathing may seem trivial, but it directly affects your vitality. This intense massage of the muscles on your back and chest with hyssop and fennel breaks up deep-lying adhesions in your chest, opening up your rib cage and allowing your breathing to deepen. By gently stimulating your abdomen, we also improve the function of your lungs. A special inhalation with cornflower, myrtle, elderberry and lime blossoms cleanses and strengthens your respiratory system.

50 min 79€

Free flow to your head

Treat yourself to a soothing head, neck and face massage. This treatment is very relaxing and creates a state of calm peacefulness. Soft pressure is applied to specific acupressure points to release certain muscles. By stimulating your scalp, we improve blood circulation and reduce stress.

25 min 45€

Alpine herbal pouch massage

This relaxing massage uses little pouches filled with hand-picked Alpine herbs which are warmed in oil and then placed on your body. The herbal stamps are moved over the body with motions of differing intensity, appropriate to the given body part. Your skin will be pampered due to the peeling effect. This calming treatment helps to relieve muscle tensions and cleanses your tissue.

50 min 79€

Linen massage mitt treatment for velvety skin

We'll start with a linen massage mitt peeling to clear, strengthen and exfoliate your skin. After the peeling, your skin will be perfectly prepared to absorb the rich nurturing products we use for the full body massage. This energizing and refreshing treatment will revitalize and nourish your skin.

Honey massage – pure detox!

Honey massages have been in use for centuries in traditional Russian folk medicine. They help the body to rid itself of waste products but also serve to revitalize the body after periods of exhaustion caused by stress, unhealthy lifestyles, or harmful environmental conditions. Warm honey is applied to the back and rubbed in using effective massage techniques. Calming and purifying warm compresses are then placed on to the back. Finally, you will be treated to a relaxing massage. (Not suitable for people with strong back hair.)

50 min 79€

Relaxing legs

This treatment is ideal after a long hike, an active ski day or a ski touring trip at high altitudes. We'll begin with a warming leg massage with strengthening essences, which loosens and regenerates the muscles, so that the strains of the day are quickly forgotten. The treatment is rounded off by an invigorating foot gel with a strong relaxing effect.

25 min 45€

Intensive back massage with trigger point treatment

When your back is sore, working your trigger points can bring soothing relaxation and regeneration. Physical strain, biomechanical stress, posture issues and tensions can lead to hard, sensitive muscle knots. In this relieving back massage, these knots are stretched, pressed and released. This effect is enhanced by a cupping glass treatment. Finally, the intensively treated zones are creamed with a warming ointment.

50 min 79€

Foot reflex zone massage

The reflex zones of the feet reflect the body's organs and muscle groups on the surface of the skin and subcutaneous layer. By applying specific pressure to certain zones, beneficial reactions can be elicited in the corresponding organs, muscles or tissues. The goal is to re-establish the body's natural balance and harmony and to activate its self-healing powers.

50 min 75€

Lymph stimulating massage

This very gentle treatment activates the lymphatic system and removes accumulated tissue fluid by bringing it into flow. Fine pumping and stroking movements provide a feeling of lightness and deep relaxation. This massage also supports the regeneration and strengthening of our immune system through its detoxifying effect.

Prana experience

What is prana? Prana is the universal vital energy. It is the elemental force that keeps everything alive. The more freely prana flows through your body, the better your body can regenerate and develop its full power. This energetic treatment is performed without touching. Blocked meridians and chakras are opened up to restore balance. You will experience a feeling of inner peace and harmony. We recommend wearing comfortable clothes or a robe for this relaxing treatment.
